The bell rang. The kids sat down.
Ben, Ann, and Fran sat together.

Ben sneezed first.
Then, Ann sneezed.

“You two are sick!” said their teacher.

“Will I get sick?” said Fran.

Miss Grant said, “Do you know how you get sick?”

“No,” said Fran.

“No,” said Ben.

“No,” said Ann.

“Germs get on your hands,” said Miss Grant.
“Germs are small. You can’t see them.
But germs can make you sick.”

Ben and Ann sneezed again.

“Stop!” said Fran. “I’ll get germs!”

“Ben and Ann can help keep germs away from you,” said Miss Grant.

“How?” said Ben and Ann.

“You can sneeze in this,” said Miss Grant.
“It keeps germs off your hands.”

“What else can we do?” said Ann.

“Sneeze in your arm,” said Miss Grant.
“Like this.”

“What else can we do?” said Ben.

“Wash your hands with soap,”
said Miss Grant.

“Okay,” said Fran.

“Okay,” said Ben.

“Okay,” said Ann.

“So, can we keep germs away?”
said Miss Grant.

The kids said, “Yes!”
