

Little Red Mix-Up

by Nancy Butts
Illustrations by Hector Borlasca

Little Red Mix-Up

by Nancy Butts

The second-grade puppet show was about to begin! Nita slipped her hand inside her sock puppet. She was playing Little Red Riding Hood. Her puppet wore a red cape and a white apron. A little straw basket was taped to the side of the sock.

Nita wiggled her fingers inside the sock. As she moved her puppet onto the stage, the basket fell off! Nita felt like crying.

Amplify Atlas™

Amplify Education, Inc.
55 Washington Street
Suite 900
Brooklyn, NY 11201
www.amplify.com

© 2014 Amplify Education, Inc. All rights reserved.

No part of this publication may be reproduced, transmitted, transcribed, stored in a retrieval system, or translated into any other language in any form or by any means without the written permission of Amplify Education, Inc.

Little Red Mix-Up

Level M

Author: Nancy Butts

Image Credits

Illustrations: Hector Borlasca

ISBN: 978-1-941554-39-5

Printed in the United States of America

When the play was over, Troy shook his head.

“This play sure didn’t go the way we planned.”

“I think it went even better,” Daniel said.

“I agree,” said Nita. “It was because we worked as a team.”

“A funny team!” said Troy.

Level M

Literary

Little Red Mix-Up

Total Running Words: 301

Lexile: 520L

Published and distributed by Amplify.

